

Dr B R Subba Rao, eminent taxonomist, felicitated by ICAR-NBAIR

Dr B R Subba Rao, formerly Entomologist, Commonwealth Institute of Entomology, London, UK visited ICAR-NBAIR on the 10th of November 2015. Dr Subba Rao, author of “History of Entomology in India” is a noted taxonomist of parasitic hymenoptera, especially Chalcidoidea. An entomologist, mentored by the well known entomologist Dr E. S. Narayanan, Dr Subba Rao was also the recipient of the prestigious Rockefeller Fellowship. Besides taxonomic research, he has also contributed immensely to the field of biological control of insect pests. Dr Subba Rao addressed the scientists of NBAIR, entomologists from IIHR, GKVK, CIPMC and a few retired entomologists, following which Director, ICAR-NBAIR felicitated Dr Subba Rao for his significant contributions in the field of insect taxonomy.

Director ICAR-NBAIR introduces Dr. B. R. Subba Rao

Dr. B. R. Subba Rao being welcomed by Dr. Abraham Verghese, Director ICAR-NBAIR

Felicitation of Dr. B. R. Subba Rao in presence Dr. G. K. Veeresh former Vice Chancellor, UAS Bengaluru

Dr. B. R. Subba Rao, addressing a gathering of leading entomologists from Karnataka at NBAIR conference hall.

Dr. G. K. Veeresh former VC, UAS Bengaluru also addressed the gathering